Something to watch out for ... Christmas shopping - in style

EEK, Christmas is fast approaching and along with mince pies and mulled wine comes the Yuletide bogeyman - Christmas shopping. To make this chore altogether more pleasurable, Luxuryexplorer.com are offering a 'Week on Walton Street' in Chelsea, Starting with bubbly at Durley House hotel (where you'll have a luxury suite), a personal shopper and style consultant will pick you up in a chauffeur-driven car for a tour of the area's high-end stores, from Tashia boutique to the Fine Art Commissions Gallery. You may spend a small fortune, but at least you'll be sipping Krug while resting your weary feet. From 26 November to 4 December; see www.luxuryexplorer.com
